

British Say Kosygin Agreed Buildup Should Halt If Bombs Stop

By ARTHUR L. GAVSHON
LONDON (AP) — Soviet Premier Alexei N. Kosygin urged North Vietnam's Communist rulers in vain to halt the flow of troops and arms to South Vietnam as one essential step to ensure peace talks, diplomatic informants said today.

These sources said the Soviet leader's advice made plain Hanoi's action — or even a promise of it — would be balanced by a guaranteed American military standoff.

The failure of President Ho Chi Minh's regime to respond positively and swiftly to Kosygin's prompting led to the resumption of American air raids on North Vietnam Monday, and thus to the failure of intensive Soviet-British peacemaking efforts during Kosygin's visit to Britain last week, the sources said.

Yet Prime Minister Harold Wilson and his key advisers apparently still hope North Vietnam's rulers may halt, or promise to halt, the dispatch of military reinforcements to South Vietnam and that this will activate an agreed Soviet-British peacemaking program.

Wilson told the House of Commons Tuesday:

"There is an initiative . . . a plan that I can't tell you about which could bring peace tomorrow and which requires a very small move to activate all the very complicated machinery that could bring us to peace."

The British also seem to be convinced, on the basis of what

Kosygin has told them, that two of the chief factors behind Hanoi's failure to respond probably were these:

1. There are now around 100,000 North Vietnamese troops across the frontier operating in support of the Viet Cong. President Ho plainly does not want to leave them high and dry. Yet Kosygin is understood to have stressed that any cutoff of military supplies need not deprive them of food or material supplies.

2. There are now also about 100,000 Red Chinese in North Vietnam whose main mission seems to be to stiffen Hanoi's resistance against anything that Peking would regard as a retreat.

Wilson and Foreign Secretary George Brown reportedly emerged from their week of contact with Kosygin profoundly impressed with what they took to be a deep, genuine Russian anxiety for a settlement.

Business Was Operated From Powell's Office

By CARL P. LEUBSDORF
WASHINGTON (AP) — Huff Enterprises Ltd., a Bahamian corporation which does business from Adam Clayton Powell's office, has added a touch of mystery to the House investigation of the unseated Harlem congressman.

With only eight days left until it must report to the House whether Powell is entitled to take his seat, the select investigating committee is trying to decipher the purpose and activities of the firm.

Its president is Powell's 25-year-old secretary, Corrine A. Huff.

Asked if the committee knew what Huff Enterprises does, associate counsel Robert P. Patterson Jr. told a reporter: "No, sir."

Other major unfinished business before the committee is the scheduled appearance Thursday of Powell's estranged third wife, Y. Marjorie Flores Powell. She is supposed to fly here from Puerto Rico today. Her appearance is expected to be in a closed session.

Two other women subpoenaed by the committee, Miss Huff and former Powell receptionist Emma T. Swann, have not appeared. Miss Huff received a subpoena on Bimini last Saturday but did not answer when called Tuesday. Miss Swann has not yet been located.

Both Miss Huff and Mrs. Swann reportedly are stockholders in Huff Enterprises, as are former Powell aides C. Sumner Stone and Odell Clark, and the new prime minister of the Bahamas, Lynden O. Pindling.

But Stone, who said he is the corporation's vice president and was present when it was incorporated, called it a "paper organization" which never has done anything. He said Pindling, a Nassau attorney before becoming prime minister, was a friend of Powell's.

The proprietor of a flying service between Miami and Bimini testified Tuesday that he was instructed by Miss Huff to send bills for material shipped to Bimini for Powell's yacht to Huff Enterprises Ltd., 2161 Rayburn House Office Building, Washington.

That is the address of Powell's congressional office. Gene Franklin, who said he owns Chalk's Airline Service, testified he billed some of the groceries, fish bait and other cargo carried to Bimini, to Powell and the rest to Huff Enterprises.

Asked if Powell paid the bills sent to him, Franklin replied: "I believe they were paid by check on Huff Enterprises. I don't believe Mr. Powell has ever paid any personally."

The disastrous Alaskan earthquake occurred March 27, 1964.

Green Berets Tackle White Mountains

By DON GUY

WATERVILLE, V.A. L.E.Y., N.H. (AP) — The Green Berets have tackled the White Mountains.

They are black and blue but happy.

Veterans of Vietnam rice paddies are tumbling in deep powder snow learning to ski in 20-below-zero weather.

Morning and afternoon the Special Forces hit the slopes of this new ski area under the eyes of tough sergeants and civilian ski instructors unused to such dedicated pupils.

Girl watching is the chief lunchtime diversion. The sight of girls in stretch ski pants adds sparkle to training on the rugged slopes, the soldiers say. In turn, the soldiers have gained a reputation as the most polite girl-watchers that ever hit a New England ski resort.

About half the 150 soldiers are veterans of Vietnam. All are from the Ft. Bragg, N.C., 6th Special Forces Group. They fly back to Ft. Bragg Thursday.

M. Sgt. Richard D. Elmers says the ski lessons are part of the Green Berets' military training. "As Special Forces they should be ready to be deployed anywhere in the world. We want them to learn to handle themselves with heavy packs in deep snow, we want them to learn to get downhill standing up."

Many civilians have been trying to learn this for years, but the soldiers caught the knack in three days, says Tom Arzberger of Rutland, Vt., a ski instructor for seven years.

Winter With Snow Returns to Sections

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Severe wintry weather, with snow, rain, strong winds and cold, lashed wide areas from the Rocky Mountains across the Great Plains to the Midwest today.

Blizzard conditions were reported in parts of the north-central region and snow fell in sections of 11 states from the western mountains to the northern plains. The snow was expected to spread eastward to the Great Lakes and southward into Texas by late tonight.

Wind gusts of 40 m.p.h. were general from the Rockies into the plains, causing much drifting of snow. Wind gusts of 90 m.p.h. were reported Tuesday in Colorado.

The mercury dropped to more than 20 below zero early today in Grand Forks, N.D., and headed for 30 below in some parts of the state.

Cold-wave warnings were posted from the eastern slopes of the Rocky Mountains to Minnesota and southward to Oklahoma and northwestern Texas.

Snow amounts were not especially heavy but 4 inches covered areas in Wyoming and 2 to 3 inches fell in northwestern Colorado.

Hazardous-driving warnings were in effect in Wyoming, extreme western Nebraska, northeastern Colorado and in mountain areas and Utah.

Two men burned to death inside a small auto when the gas tank ruptured in a collision with an Army truck on a snow-covered road southwest of Salt Lake City. Freeways leading through northern Utah mountains into Wyoming and Nevada were nearly deserted. Many cars were stalled.

Dust storm warnings were issued by the Weather Bureau for west-central Texas south of the panhandle. Winds of 50 to 60 m.p.h. were expected.

Forest and brush fires broke out in parts of Tennessee, Kentucky and Indiana. Gusty winds fanned a woods fire across several hundred acres in East Nashville, Tenn., threatening a heavily populated area. Lesser fires broke out in several other parts of middle Tennessee where grass and woodlands were tinder dry after weeks of below-normal rainfall.

Seven brush and forest fires were reported Tuesday night in the Elizabethtown area in central Kentucky covering 800 acres. Fires in the region in the last two days have covered 1,500 acres. Another 1,200 acres were affected in the central and western part of the state. No injuries were reported.

Fires also flared in many sections of southern Indiana. A blaze threatened the town of Birdseye before it was brought under control. Unseasonably mild air spread northeastward from Texas to the Ohio Valley Tuesday. Temperatures rose to the highest marks in nearly three weeks in the southern Great Lakes area.

Douglas Back Teaching Economics

NEW YORK (AP) — Prof. Paul H. Douglas has gone back to teaching economics after what he called a "18-year hiatus" in the U.S. Senate.

"Frankly, I'm very nervous," he told newsmen Tuesday night at the New School for Social Research before giving his first lecture on the federal budget.

"Anyone who thinks teaching is hot air is greatly mistaken. I've never worked so hard in my life as I have preparing these lectures," said the Illinois Democrat who was beaten by Republican Charles H. Percy when he ran for re-election last November.

Douglas was professor of economics at the University of Chicago before enlisting in the Marine Corps during World War II and his years in the Senate.

Before his first lecture to a strictly restricted class of 20 persons he met newsmen informally in the faculty room.

Sipping a scotch and soda, he said he thinks Lyndon B. Johnson is doing "a good job" as President but that he personally couldn't get along with him when both were in the Senate. He said prospects are "good" for Johnson's re-election.

"When he was leader of the Senate, we didn't get along at all," Douglas said as he relaxed on a sofa.

"It was not a happy relationship at all. He was held in by the political situation in the state of Texas.

"He's a good President. He's trying hard and, believe me, it's not easy."

LET'S TALK ABOUT MOVIES

By VELDA SEAMANS

Tomorrow's the day we have been waiting for a New Disney comedy "Follow Me Boys" hits our screen. We love these Disney pictures—we get to see lots of faces we like to see—we hear lots of laughter, and everyone goes home happy after being well entertained. This is another "Shaggy Dog, Absent Minded Professor" type comedy, so get the whole family together and come down Thursday, Friday and Saturday—avoid the crowds by coming Thursday.

Tonight's your last chance to see ARABESQUE.

Don't forget we always have a late show on Saturday night for that late date—see "Hotel Paris" this Saturday!

HOTEL PARADISO our Sunday attraction is a spicy uproarious, almost slapstick comedy about a hotel in which the roomers are always winding up in the wrong room with the wrong partner. It's spiced with Al Pacino, Al Pacino (River Kwai) and Loretta Young heading the fun. Our old friend Akim Tamiroff steals Jim Martindale.

Mrs. Jack Royal was welcomed as a new member. To express appreciation to doctors on Doctors' Day, a donation was subscribed to the educational fund of the American Medical Association.

The president appointed Mrs. George Wright to represent the Auxiliary on the Practical Nurse Advisory Committee of the Red River Technical Vocational School.

Officers elected for next year were: Mrs. J. W. Branch, president, and Mrs. Jud B. Martindale, secretary-treasurer.

Mrs. Lowell Harris was named a delegate to the State Convention, with Mrs. Lynn Harris, alternate delegate.

Refreshments were served to the seven members present.

DUPLICATE BRIDGE CLUB

Master Point Night for the Hope Duplicate Bridge Club was held at the Diamond on Monday night, February 13 with four tables of players. Mrs. J. C. Broyles and Mrs. Taylor Stuart were the highest scoring couple.

Second were Mrs. Harry Hawthorne and Mrs. Syd McMath; third, Mrs. R. L. Broach and Mrs. Comer Boyett; fourth, Mrs. E. P. Young, Jr. and Mike Kelly.

VICTORY HD CLUB

The Victory Extension Homemakers Club met February 1 in the home of Mrs. Dexter Alford with 11 members and 1 guest attending. The group sang "The Old Rugged Cross," accompanied by Mrs. Robert Cash.

Making a book-marker was the eye opener given by Mrs. Joe Willett. After the devotion given by the hostess, the group repeated the Homemakers Prayer. The foods leader, Mrs. Jack Sumpter, had charge of the program and gave a lesson on "As Others See You." Each person answered the roll call by telling "How is your food becoming you?"

A poem "I Met God," was read by Mrs. Jack Sumpter. The club agreed to give $5 to the March of Dimes. After playing some lively games under the direction of Mrs. Avery McKinney, the club adjourned.

Coming, Going

Mr. and Mrs. Armin Ayers and Jimmy visited this past weekend in Memphis, Tennessee with their daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Richard Sartin.

Mr. and Mrs. Jerry Mandeville, Oklahoma City, were weekend guests of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Ellis. They were joined for lunch on Sunday by Mr. and Mrs. Lindol Ellis, Homer, La., and Mr. and Mrs. James Ellis, Hope.

Mr. and Mrs. George Frazier and children and Mrs. B. C. Hyatt attended the installation services for the Rev. Robert L. Hyatt at the First Presbyterian Church in Longview, Tex., Sunday.

Mrs. M. B. Hatch, Mrs. M. I. Peebles, Mrs. B. W. Edwards, and Mrs. B. C. Hyatt attended the Civic Music Concert in Tex.

Bob Thomas at the Movies

By BOB THOMAS
AP Movie-Television Writer
HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Some friends of Cole Porter gathered at the University of Southern California one recent evening to reminisce about the late songwriter and sing his imperishable tunes.

The result could be expressed in one of his lyrics: "Just one of those nights . . . Just one of those fabulous nights."

The friends were Frank Sinatra, Fred Astaire, Ethel Merman, Gene Kelly, Alan Jay Lerner and Carson Kinnley. All had known Porter intimately; he had scored "High Society" for Sinatra, "The Pirate" for Kelly, "The Gay Divorcee" with "Night and Day" as its hit for Astaire, and "Panama Hattie" and four other shows for Merman.

Mrs. William Goetz, wife of the film producer and daughter of Louis B. Mayer, had invited the stars to the program for the U.S.C. Friends of the Library.

The evening began with the announcement by James O. Cole of Peru, Ind., Porter's cousin and heir, that the Porter estate was establishing a $5,000 annual fellowship in the arts at USC. Then the friends took over.

Said playwright-director-author Kanin: "Cole Porter stood for the apex of achievement in his field; there was never anyone who was better."

Lyricist Lerner added: "The thing that was unique about him was that he seemed to spring from nowhere." Other songwriters had their roots in operetta or jazz, but "Cole was something special, something unaccountable and unexplainable."

Sinatra: "He made it fun to sing a song. I'll never forget my surprise at his couplets and inner rhymes."

Merman sang in her galvanic style the little tune from the first show Porter wrote for her, "Anything Goes." Also, "I Get a Kick Out of You."

Lerner recalled receiving a summons to visit Porter at New York's Harkness Pavilion, where he had undergone one of 29 operations on his legs, broken in a horseback fall.

"I arrived at five o'clock and found Cole prepared to serve martinis and hot hors d'oeuvres," said Lerner. "He had engaged an extra room in the hospital to set up a little stove so he could have hot hors d'oeuvres."

"Now that's real class!" said Sinatra admiringly.

Beneficial Beauty Mask

If your skin resembles an oil gusher, it will benefit greatly from a once-a-week beauty mask. Work up a good lather with castile baby soap and allow it to dry on the face. Baby soap is gentle enough for a drying action without irritating the skin, and the hexachlorophene in it fights the bacteria that cause the blemishes that plague most young people. Be sure to rinse off the mask, and finish with cold water or witch hazel.

A TV Series For Peggy Lee?

By DICK KLEINER
Hollywood Correspondent
Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

HOLLYWOOD (NEA) — Universal's tours are big business—they expect to handle 10,000 people a day this summer—and the studio is finding another hidden asset in the venture . . . They are showing rough cuts of movies and television shows to certain tourists, using them as a kind of test panel. Hollywood is wondering whether Eddie Fisher and Debbie Reynolds, who will be performing next door to each other in Miami Beach for a couple of nights, will get together to talk over old times . . . Kim Novak sold her Bel Air estate and will no longer live in Hollywood.

Peggy Lee just finished an episode of The Girl From U.N.C.L.E. playing a ranch owner named Packer Jo. It worked so well that there's talk of a series based on the character, and that would be just fine with Peggy.

Peggy has definitely given up the thoughts she once had about retiring from performing, to devote herself exclusively to songwriting. "I had thought," she says, "that if I retired I'd stand the best chance of a happy marriage. There was this doctor I found attractive. But I decided against it—I have enough male companionship to satisfy my female ego as it is."

So she's going to keep on working. Naturally, if she could get a television show, it would mean she could stay home all the time, home with her children and her dogs and NEVER TOO OLD for exercise, say Mrs. R. J. Stueck, left, and Mrs. C. B. Connley, both of St. Louis, who for the past 25 years have been doing stretch exercises at once-a-week gym classes. Mrs. Stueck, 71, was one of the founders of a "mother health club" in suburban St. Louis during World War II.

THE TRIALS OF BEING FAMOUS

Dear Helen: I doubt if you know much about what a basketball player faces in life, but maybe you can still suggest how to solve my privacy problem.

The only way I have any privacy is to lock myself in my motel room. Otherwise the fans crowd in and drive me to drink.

There are other basketball or baseball players who are probably fixed in the same situation. What do they do? — NON ANYTMOUS PLAYER

Dear N.A.P.: They do what you should: welcome fans' interest, for all too soon you'll wonder where it went.

(Now honest, people don't crowd in THAT much—not unless you're a Wilt Chamberlain or Bill Russell.) — H

Dear Helen: I'd like to make a public complaint via HHU. Why must pregnant mothers tell their children all the sordid facts about their condition? Maybe the stork and the doctor's "little black bag" are old hat, but at least they kept small children quiet about the facts of life. — READER

Dear Reader: Sorry, I see nothing sordid about pregnancy. A child who is told a few facts about an unborn baby isn't nearly so apt to scream when he must give up his No. 1 spot to a new-comer. — H.

Dear Helen: What do you think of a son and his wife who don't allow grandparents to see their grandchildren?

It all started over the garden. We let her family help themselves from it, and also provided vegetables for my son and his wife. Then when one of her sisters

(pregnant at that) was married at a big wedding in the church, we weren't invited. We were considered "outsiders."

Next time they came for vegetables, my husband politely told them "ix-nay," we were "outsiders" remember? To that his daughter-in-law swore we would never see our grandchildren again. It's been over two years. We're unwelcome at their home, they won't come near ours. When the newest baby was born six months ago, my husband called our son and asked if we could see her. He said yes, so we went over—to be met at the door and asked to leave by his wife. Our son just sat there and said nothing.

They think my husband should apologize for what he did, and we think they should apologize for their cruelty to us. It doesn't help when people who know say, "Your son is a rat-fink." He was once the finest boy in the world. Now he won't even speak to us. We practically clothed them when they were first married.

We have changed our wills. We don't feel they deserve anything. Should they ever come back and try to make up, well, we're from Missouri. We'd need a lot of proof they meant it. How should this be handled? — GRANDMOTHER

Dear Grandmother: . . . With a great deal more maturity than any of you have exhibited so far! Have you an idea how silly you all must appear to townspeople, and how you're being laughed at as "that nutty family who had the big feud over a few vegetables?"

For heaven's sake, SOMEBODY must be adult enough to apologize first, no matter who's at fault! Stubborn self-righteousness will get you nothing but old age. — H.

P. S. If YOU make the first gesture, I'll bet a winter squash to a teething ring your in-laws will take their share of the blame. So you don't believe me? So how will you ever know unless you try? — H.

her paintings and her writing. "And actually," she said, "I just realized as we were talking that I enjoy performing more now than I ever did. I've had a lifelong battle with shyness and I think I've finally licked it by only working places where I know the audience will like me. And all of us want to be liked."

Is there anybody here who doesn't like Peggy Lee?

Gary Raymond is still hobbling around with his leg in a cast—from that Jeep accident with two others of The Rat Patrol—but he's back at work.

On his cast is a rough sketch of a Crimean War soldier with these words: "Give the water to the men, Miss Nightingale—they need it more than I." This was the work of John Astin, a good friend.

Raymond is the Englishman in the show and he and his wife (actress Delena Kidd) and their children are adjusting nobly to the rigors of life in the sun.

They are going home when this season's shooting is over, to visit their families, but they are looking forward to their return trip already. There's a distinct possibility that Delena will resume her career here next fall.

Incidentally, Delena Kidd comes from Washington—a hamlet in England's Durham county which is reputed to be the ancestral home of our first president's family.

You never know when you'll learn something, do you?

A good introduction to belly dancing, says belly-dancer Nai Bonet, is the motorcycle.

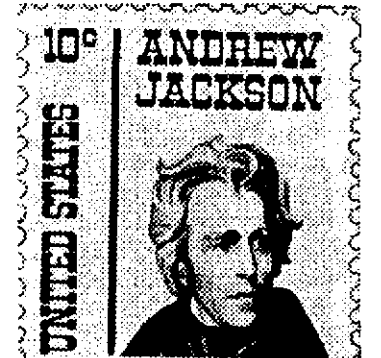

Nai has a bit in "Devil's Angels," a film which stars John Cassavetes as the leader of a motorcycle gang. She is supposed to teach some of the gang members to belly-dance (don't worry about the plot, Charley). And there are genuine motorcycle jockeys playing the parts.

"They're perfect students," Nai says. "It must be all that motorcycle riding they do. It keeps them loose in all the right places."

Television and Radio

By CYNTHIA LOWRY
AP Television-Radio Writer
NEW YORK (AP) — CBS had a delayed Christmas present for the youngest television viewers Monday night when the Prince Street Players were seen in their musical adaptation of "Pinnocchio."

The familiar childhood story about the life-sized puppet who was turned, in easy stages by the blue fairy, into a flesh-and-blood boy had a simple charm, pleasant tunes and even some little lessons — about taking blame and telling lies.

What it lacked was a budget for the sort of production that television viewers have come to expect in special programs. The program obviously was shot on a rather small stage, which limited its effectiveness.

In marked contrast was the lavish production of NBC's special, "Highlights of the Ice Capades," another program which is a treat for children and which, by mischievous scheduling, partly conflicted with the other show.

The camera work of the ice show was as sleek and smooth as the professional skaters as they swooped and whirled gracefully about the rink. The most awkward part of the show, as usual, was the presence of the nonskating celebrities. Jimmy Durante, host, at least had the good sense to keep off skates and was wheeled into the center of the rink on a large drum furnished with a piano. There was also Jimmy Dean to synchronize — almost but not quite — his lips to the words of a pre-recorded song. And there were the Supremes, a singing trio, as well.

Both shows were a pleasant diversion during that part of Monday evening when it is always a problem to find much of interest to an adult viewer. May be "Flipper" will be back next season, but the two boys who have been the dolphin's costars since the beginning of the NBC series will not. A widow and her two children will enter the story line before this season is over.

Next year, the two original boys will be "away at school," and the new ones will take over.

Reports that the Beatles are breaking up are premature — as long as there are profitable records to be made and plugged. They will appear in two numbers, recently taped in England, on the Feb. 25 "Hollywood Palace."

"Annie Get Your Gun," probably will occupy 90 minutes of NBC time on Palm Sunday, complete with Ethel Merman and the Irving Berlin score. It is being kept rather quiet — lest the TV plans hurt box office sales of the current stage revival.

Nude Posing Coed May Be Punished

GAINESVILLE, Fla. (AP) — Curvy Florida coed who continued to pose nude today as the University of Florida considered how to punish her for posing in the buff for an off-campus magazine.

A Gainesville student, who was reported to be the magazine's editor, said she had been told by the university that she would be punished if she continued to pose nude.

If the punishment is serious, she said, she would be forced to stop posing nude. She said she had been told by the university that she would be punished if she continued to pose nude.

Porkers Sign Star Grid Players

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Arkansas Coach Frank Broyles toured Texas and Louisiana Tuesday on the first day of signings in the Southwest Conference.

The Razorback coach landed two north Louisiana standouts and one in Texas.

Broyles signed halfback Tom Hagin of Shreveport Woodlawn, a 6-foot-1, 175-pounder; center Robert Lewis, 6-foot-3, 185, of Ruston, La., an all-stater; and Bill Lovely, 6-foot-2, 204-pound offensive and defensive end from Palestine, Tex. Lovely and Razorback tailback David Dickey are neighbors.

Broyles also signed two Arkansas athletes Tuesday—quarterback Jerry Moore of Benton, a 6-foot-3, 190-pounder, and fullback Ronnie Bennett of Osceola, a 6-foot-3, 225-pounder.

Others signed Tuesday were Keith Golden, 6-foot, 175-pound halfback from Little Rock Central; Pat Morrison, 6-foot-2, 195-pound end-linebacker from Little Rock Catholic; Ronnie Jones, 6-foot-2, 195-pound halfback-end from North Little Rock; John Rees, 6-foot-2, 175-pound end from Jonesboro.

Danny James, 6-foot-1, 190-pound halfback from Batesville; George Mathis, 6-foot-3, 225-pound tackle—linebacker from Mountain Home; and Mike Schaufele, 6-foot-0, 180-pound end from Little Rock Hall.

Arkansas had earlier in the day announced the signing of halfback—linebacker Russ Garber of Riverton, Kan.; tackle Jimmy Harris of Norphlet, tackle David Rodgers of McGehee, and Tim Forte of Sheridan and end Ronnie Price of McGehee.

Halfback David Carter of Fort Smith Northside, regarded as one of the best backs in the state, indicated he would sign with Arkansas today.

Mumps foiled the signing of Steve Birdwell, star halfback-quarterback from Murfreesboro. Backfield Coach John Majors had planned to sign him Tuesday until he learned Birdwell had mumps. Birdwell's mother said the youth would sign with the Razorbacks.

All Coaches Like Players of This Kind

By ESCAR THOMPSON

KNOXVILLE, Tenn. (AP) — Tennessee basketball captain Ron Widby is one of those super athletes all coaches yearn for but seldom have on their roster.

Widby, says Coach Ray Mears, is the chief reason why Tennessee is leading the Southeastern Conference basketball championship race with an 11-2 record. Tennessee is leading the Southeastern Conference basketball championship race with an 11-2 record.

Although basketball is Widby's major assignment, he has won three letters in football and others in baseball and golf. He was the nation's leading punter in college football last fall.

How good is the 6-foot-5 Widby? "Widby is the best basketball player in the Southeastern Conference," says Kentucky Coach Adolph Rupp, a wily judge of cage talent. "He does so many things well."

"Ron Widby is an All-America if I know what one looks like," says Mears. "He has everything it takes... great shooting ability, defense, rebounding skill at both ends of the floor, poise, leadership, determination and a fine attitude."

Most other SEC coaches agree with Mears and Rupp. Widby has scored 423 points this season for a 21.2 average and has set a three-year Tennessee scoring record with 1,236 points. He has a 49.2 shooting percentage from the floor, 83.3 per cent at the foul line and has gathered in 172 rebounds in 20 games.

Football, basketball and baseball scouts are all waiting for Widby to complete his collegiate career so they can make him offers.

"I believe I would prefer football," Ron says. "I think I can make it with the pros as a kicker."

His average last fall was 43.8 yards a kick.

Nothing Like Athletic War, Kheel Reports

By RON RAPOPORT

Associated Press Sports Writer
NEW YORK (AP) — Theodore Kheel, who made his reputation during some of the thorniest labor-management disputes of the past few years, says he has never seen anything to match the war over amateur track and field that has suddenly flared up again.

"This is the toughest situation I've ever been involved in," said Kheel, head of a panel appointed by Vice President Hubert Humphrey to mediate the dispute between the Amateur Athletic Union and the National Collegiate Athletic Association. Kheel first came to prominence as a mediator during the New York newspaper strike in 1962-63 that dragged on for 114 days and later was involved in the celebrated subway and bus strike here a year ago.

"These fellows," Kheel said Tuesday talking of the parties to the NCAA-AAU battle, "make the Teamsters look like undernourished doves."

Kheel asked the AAU not to ban foreign and noncollegiate athletes who participated in a meet here last Friday that was run by the U.S. Track and Field Federation, a creation of the NCAA.

Col. Donald Hull, executive director of the AAU, replied the matter was out of his group's hands and rested with the foreign governing bodies involved. "The athletes are primarily in trouble with their own governing bodies," he said. "There is nothing we can do here until we hear from them."

Asked if he thought the athletes might be able to compete in meets this weekend, Hull replied, "Impossible as I see it."

In a similar situation last summer, the AAU lifted suspensions at Kheel's request. The AAU insists foreign and noncollegiate athletes may only run in meets it sanctions. The NCAA says anything goes until Kheel's panel makes a final decision.

"I wish to make clear," Kheel said Tuesday, "we will render a final decision which will dispose of this dispute once and for all. This can't be this week or the next."

Giants to Get Choice at Quarterback

MIAMI BEACH, Fla. (AP) — A rumor that the New York Giants will get the pick of quarterbacks in this year's draft has been given a degree of substance, if not clarification.

National Football League Commissioner Pete Rozelle said Tuesday, "There is some validity to the reports."

He added, "We don't know now just what is going to happen. It's just not clarified."

Rozelle is here in conjunction with the annual meeting of the American Football League, which he will oversee as well as the NFL after the two pro leagues merge in 1970.

Normally, first choice in the annual draft of college players would go to the NFL's newest club at New Orleans, The Giants, as the team with the worst record last season, would get second pick.

The whole thing will have to be worked out, Rozelle said, after the NFL meets in Honolulu next week.

AFL owners, general managers and coaches took this afternoon off to play golf. Milt Woodard, league president, retired for three years, said it was "the first time in the seven-year history of the league that we've been able to take a break for golf."

The AFL executives are trying to bring their players' pension plan in line with that of the NFL. No interleague trading is expected to take place until these plans are synchronized.

Big Money Boys Head Tucson Open

TUCSON, Ariz. (AP) — With golf's 1967 leading money winner Arnold Palmer heading the pack, 170 golfers open the $50,000 Tucson Open Wednesday with a pro-am round.

Palmer was teamed with former Sen. Barry Goldwater, football star Jon Arnett of the Chicago Bears and Tucson amateur Fred Bolce for the preliminary to the 72-hole event Thursday.

With $26,632 in his pocket, Palmer leads this year's money makers on the golf circuit.

After a victory in the Los Angeles Open, Palmer skipped last week's Phoenix Open.

A gusty wind swept the Tucson National Golf Club Tuesday as many of the 36 pros signed up for the tourney took practice swings.

Bob Kelvin, host club pro, said the winning score for the tourney "won't be under 280 if we get two days of windy weather."

Defending champion Joe Campbell, the cigar-chomping swinger from Tansil, Tenn., was in the pro-am field. He will also be trying for a repeat of his 1966 success and the first prize money of $9,000.

Palmer, however, is considered the man to beat.

Four of last year's top 10 official money winners are entered in the tourney. They are Palmer, who finished No. 3; R. H. Sikes, 8; Frank Beard, 9; and Al Geiberger, 10.

Van Brocklin Would Take Another Job

ST. PAUL — MINNEAPOLIS (AP) — While rumors swirled like a winter snowstorm about his future plans, Norm Van Brocklin, resigned Minnesota Vikings' football coach, relaxed and visited with old friends today in Portland, Ore., far from the storm center.

The Dutchman, the center of a storm which has engulfed the Vikings of the National Football League the past several days, would only say that he is not closing the door to a possible return to professional football's coaching ranks. For the time being, however, he said in Portland Tuesday he is not giving it much thought.

There were reports and denials Tuesday of where Van Brocklin was headed.

One published report in Chicago had him going to Green Bay as Coach Vince Lombardi's No. 1 assistant, with a possible move up to the Packer head coaching job if and when Lombardi decides to devote full time to being Green Bay general manager.

That report also had Packer assistant Phil Bengtson becoming Minnesota's head coach.

Lombardi promptly denied it all, saying:

"There's absolutely no truth to that story. In fact, it's terrible. The whole thing is ridiculous."

Bengtson said he would listen to any offer the Vikings might have, but added, "It would have to be extremely attractive to make me leave Green Bay."

Other rumors had Van Brocklin going to New Orleans as general manager of the new Saints franchise, and going to New York as coach and general manager of the Giants of the NFL.

There was no response from anybody responsible on either of those reports.

Temper Costs Veteran 3rd Vacation

TORONTO (AP) — Bernie (Boom Boom) Geoffrion's explosive Gallic temper has cost the high-scoring veteran the third enforced vacation of his 15-year National Hockey League career.

Geoffrion, who has come out of a two-year retirement to spark the New York Rangers' resurgence in the NHL this season, was suspended Tuesday night for three games by league President Clarence Campbell for an altercation with a linesman in last Wednesday night's Rangers-Boston Bruins game.

The 35-year-old right winger, who has netted 14 goals and 20 assists for New York, will miss tonight's game at Toronto, Saturday's home game against the league-leading Chicago Black Hawks and Sunday's return match at Chicago.

He also was fined a total of $75 for drawing misconduct and game misconduct penalties in the Bruins-Rangers game.

Southern S. Can't Lose AIC Crown

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Southern State has clinched no worse than a tie for its second consecutive Arkansas Intercollegiate Conference basketball championship, a title the Muleriders could sew up with a victory over Arkansas College Friday night.

The Muleriders got 26 points from Donny Denton Monday night in an 84-69 victory over winless Ozarks. It was the Mountaineers' 15th straight AIC defeat. Richard Pyland led Ozarks with 20 points.

In other AIC action Tuesday night State College of Arkansas defeated Arkansas A&M 91-83, Ouachita Baptist beat Arkansas Tech 81-73 and Arkansas College stopped Hendrix 68-55.

Southern State is now 14-1 and State College 11-4 in the conference race. All others have been eliminated from title contention.

George Jones scored 24 points and Mickey Johnson added 20 in leading State College over A&M. Kelton Busby had 20 points for the Weevils.

Larry Bone scored 23 points and Robert Cornelius 20 as Ouachita tripped Tech. Terry Horn had 20 points for the Wonder Boys.

Bill Cossey led Arkansas College to its victory by scoring 21 points. Bill Niven had 18 for the Warriors.

Lowly Raiders Slow SMU's Title March

Shortly after Southern Methodist had defeated Baylor at home last Saturday it was announced in the SMU coliseum that Texas Tech had upset Texas Christian.

That combination of events made it appear the Mustangs would wrap up their third consecutive Southwest Conference basketball title without too much difficulty.

After all, didn't they face last night Texas Tech at home Tuesday night while their nearest challengers, Texas Christian and Texas, were playing on foreign courts?

Tuesday night was not one for the home folks. Instead of taking a two or three-game lead, Southern Methodist is only one game in front and facing a Saturday at Los Angeles, New York at Cincinnati and Philadelphia at Detroit.

Those lowly Red Raiders, whom SMU beat by 16 points at Lubbock 10 days ago, crushed the conference leaders 82-74, holding the Mustangs to three points in the last 3½ minutes while pouring in 11.

Texas Christian went to Waco and beat Baylor 99-91 for the second time this season. Texas traveled to Houston and stopped Rice 81-76.

The Horned Frogs and Longhorns now have 6-3 conference records and the Mustangs are 7-2. Texas meets Baylor at Austin Saturday afternoon.

Texas A&M was the only one to break the home team jinx Tuesday night, edging Arkansas 60-53.

Texas Tech took the lead after four minutes of the first half and the best Southern Methodist could do after that was to tie the score, the last time at 71-71 with 3:33 to play.

Vernon Paul, who led all scorers with 20 points, put in a basket and added a free throw and Joe Dobbs chipped in two free throws and the Mustangs were finished.

Tech shot 58 per cent from the field to SMU's 48 per cent. Baylor got 55 points from Darrell Hardy and Jimmy Turner, the conference's two leading scorers, but one of the other eight Bears who played could get in double figures to help out.

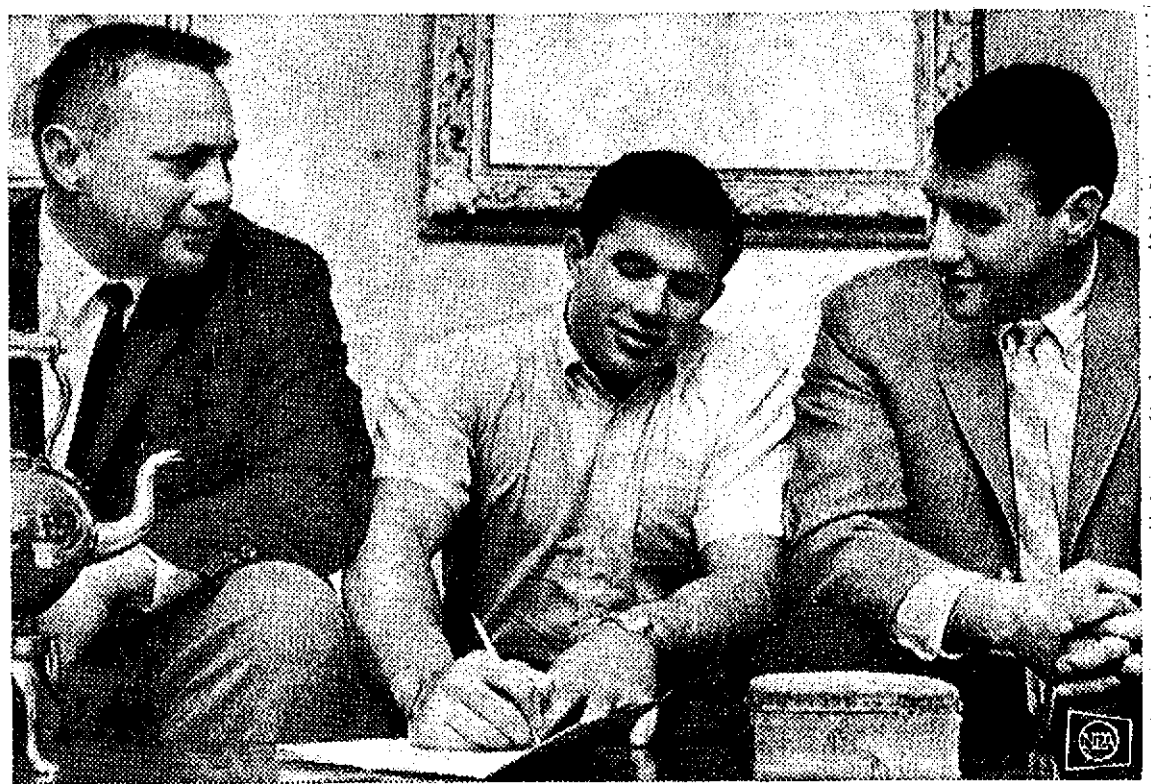

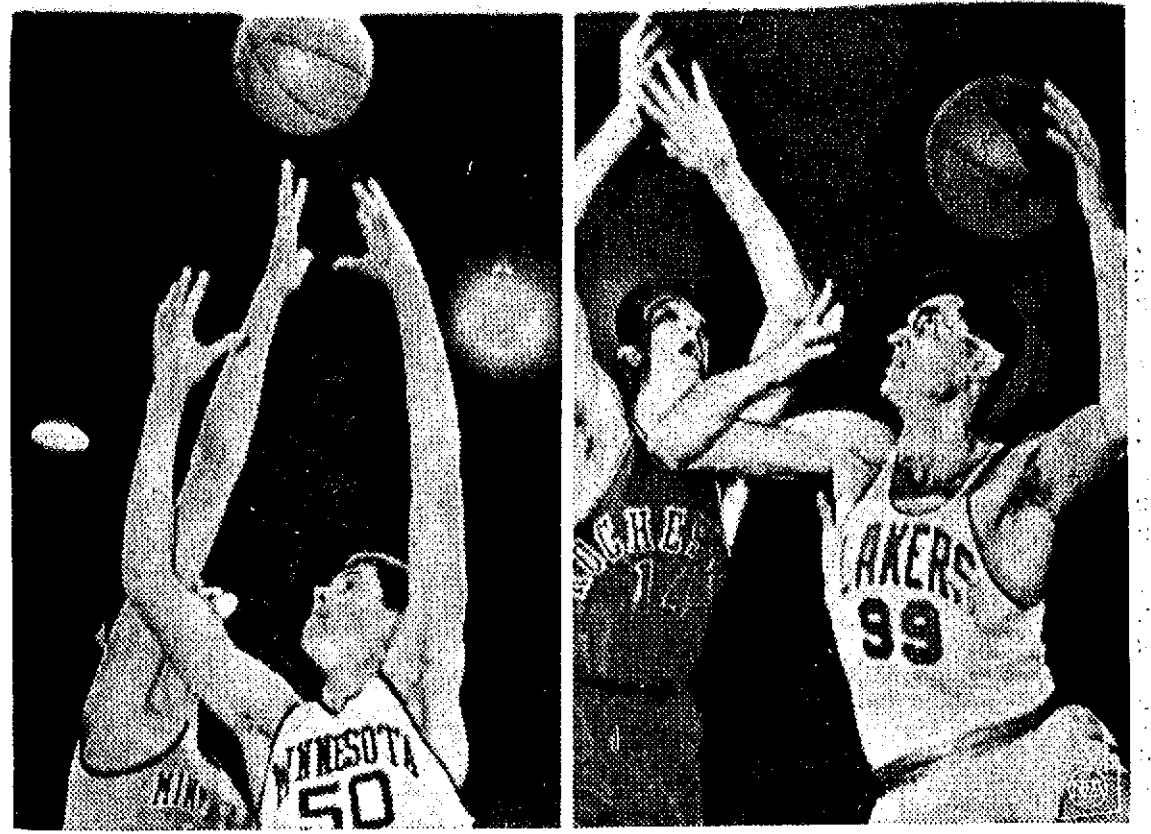

Hardy scored 31 points and Turner got 24. The Horned Frogs received 25-point scoring from Jess Evans, 22 from Wayne Kreis, 21 from Mickey McCarty and 16 from Stan Farr.

Texas Christian hit 53 per cent from the floor and Baylor bettered that with 55 per cent.

Texas trailed by as much as 2 points early in the second half but came to life behind the shooting of Billy Arnold, who scored 14 of his 20 points in the final period.

Rice's Bill Doty got 14 points in the first 20 minutes and the Owls led at halftime 41-33. He finished with 24 points.

Texas A&M used a 41-27 rebounding superiority and a greater number of free throw opportunities to beat Arkansas and drop the Razorbacks into last place, one game behind Texas Tech.

Barry Gets 50 in Win Over Celtics

San Francisco's warriors finally won a National Basketball Association game without rebounder Nate Thurmond.

They accomplished it in losing the Boston Celtics, 128-122, in the only league game played Tuesday night, with supersoph Rick Barry scoring 50 points.

Tonight's schedule has Boston at Los Angeles, New York at Cincinnati and Philadelphia at Detroit.

Until Tuesday night the Warriors had lost every game they played this season without Thurmond. Also, they had lost four in a row, the last three since Thurmond broke two bones in his left hand against the Celtics at Boston last Friday.

Western Division lead had dwindled from a comfortable 11 games to 6 over St. Louis.

That spell was broken in the third quarter when Barry put records and the Mustangs are 7-2. Texas meets Baylor at Austin Saturday afternoon.

Texas A&M was the only one to break the home team jinx Tuesday night, edging Arkansas 60-53.

Big 10 May End in a 4-Way Tie

By TED MEIER

Associated Press Sports Writer
For the first time in 41 years the Big Ten college basketball race may end in a four-way tie.

The Big Ten has taken a back seat this season to such teams as UCLA, Louisville, North Carolina, Princeton, Western Kentucky, Kansas and Vanderbilt.

Thus the eye-scratching contest between Indiana, Northwestern, Iowa and Michigan State to succeed Michigan as Big Ten champion has gone virtually unnoticed nationally.

Iowa whipped Northwestern 80-75 at Iowa City Tuesday night and created the jam at the top in the Big Ten. Iowa, Northwestern, Indiana and Michigan State each are 5-2 at the halfway mark in conference play which ends March 11.

It's possible that the teams still will be tied then for the first such finish in the Big Ten since 1926. That year Indiana, Iowa, Michigan and Purdue deadlocked at 8-4.

North Carolina, fourth-ranked nationally in The Associated Press poll and the only team in the AP Top Ten to see action, rebounded from its upset at the hands of Georgia Tech to whip North Carolina State 77-60 at Raleigh.

Clemson beat Duke 73-68 for the Tigers' first victory over the Blue Devils in five years. In another surprise, Texas Tech downed Southern Methodist 82-74.

"This was a typical game for us in Boston—we were terrible," Abel said after the Red Wings dropped a 6-3 decision to the last-place Bruins Tuesday night at Boston Garden.

"It seems we come in here and can't do anything right," Abel said. "The Bruins really score on us in Boston. Of course, you don't win when you don't put something into the game—and we didn't tonight."

"We've been playing well—even in a 3-2 loss to Chicago Sunday afternoon—but this was a different story. Only a couple of players did their job."

JONES From Page One

House measure in the Senate, said he might bring it up for consideration again Friday.

The vote on the merit system bill was interpreted as a test of whether the House would join the Senate's feud with Rockefeller.

"I think this is part of the sparring going on between the legislative and executive branches," said Rep. Gayle Windsor of Little Rock. "The people in my district are getting sick and tired of the by-play going on."

"It is time to forget these artificial party differences and barriers and get on with the job."

Reps. John Bethell of Des Arc and W. H. Thompson of Marked Tree, who thundered denunciations of the GOP, put it on a partisan basis.

"I don't see how any man who calls himself a Democrat can sit in his chair and vote against this bill," Thompson said.

Bethell said he would not be upset about the administration's hiring practices if it replaced Democrats with competent Republicans, but that this wasn't happening. He said qualified Democrats were losing their jobs and that this is the reason he doesn't object to "blanketing" them in with the retroactive feature of the bill.

"It's just as good to blanket them in as it is for the Republicans to blanket them out," Bethell said.

Thompson said he could find few Democrats holding state jobs because of "these efficient people who claim they are so smart."

Both Thompson and Bethell blamed the Republican Party for the Depression and, invoking the name of Franklin D. Roosevelt, claimed the state's economic progress could be attributed to the Democrats.

Most of the legislators opposing the bill said the state needed a merit system, but that the proposal didn't do the job. Rep. Charles Davis of Springdale said the bill—which would cover about 7,000 more than the 2,500 now covered—was a revised version of a measure that passed the legislature in 1937 but was repealed in 1939.

Rep. Thomas Sparks of Fordey warned that the Democrats were getting on the wrong track.

"This had better be a new day for the Democratic Party," he said. "I haven't seen any new thinking in this House today and if we want the Democratic Party to win, we've got to get up a positive program."

Rep. Ray S. Smith Jr. of Hot Springs said the House could not be prepared to enact a merit bill until the completion of a job classification and salary study now being conducted.

Rockefeller agreed in his statement, adding that this was the purpose of the personnel division of the new Department of Administration that he has proposed.

Although partisan statements rang through the chamber during debate on the measure, the three House Republicans did not join in. Rep. George Nowotny of Fort Smith said the three felt "discretion was the better part of valor" in this case.

"The members of our House of Representatives who voted against the retroactive merit system proposal deserve the commendations of all of us," Rockefeller said.

Rep. Cal Ledbetter Jr. of Little Rock, who handled the committee revision bill, said Democrats were obligated by their platform to at least explore the possibility of constitutional revision.

The 30-member commission created by the bill would report its findings to the 1969 legislature. The legislature, on the basis of the report, would decide whether to call a constitutional convention.

state Employees Retirement System.

—Approved 30-0 a bill prohibiting foreign corporations from discriminating against Arkansas licensees.

—Defeated 25-3 a House bill requiring the endorsement and date of a policy loan on insurance policies.

—Approved 24-10 a House bill providing uniform exemptions from sales and use taxes.

—Approved by voice vote a resolution by Sen. Carl Sorrels of Atkins asking the Legislative Council for a study on state printing laws.

—Approved 34-0 a bill by Sen. Russell Elrod of Siloam Springs that would provide for the distribution of an estate when a person dies intestate and without descendants.

The senate convenes at noon Wednesday.

In other action, the House: —Passed a bill designed to help communities that have exhausted their bonding resources by guaranteeing industrial bond issues up to $300,000.

—Approved a bill providing that the mineral interests of land held by persons other than the surface owners revert to the surface owners if there has been no withdrawal of minerals in 20 years.

Defeated a bill allowing a consumer to accept trading stamps or their value in cash at the time of a purchase.

—Approved a measure making the school elections in March rather than in September.

—Passed a Senate bill declaring the diamond as the state gem, quartz crystal as the state mineral and bauxite as a state rock.

Passed a bill enlarging the Joint Auditing Committee from 18 to 26 members.

property damage resulted, Chief of Police Alvin Willis told Hope Kiwanis club Tuesday.

Traffic violations totaled nearly one half of the total arrests in all categories, Chief Willis pointed out in announcing that a radar machine with speed meter had been purchased by the City and was now being used by the police department.

Total of 158 persons were arrested for driving while drunk, and 136 were arrested for failure to yield the right of way. Speeding, reckless driving were next highest on the list.

"We are getting some criticism and complaints on the radar machine and these complaints of course are coming from violators, but the primary purpose of the machine is to promote greater safety on our streets for all humanity."

Surprisingly, the greatest number of traffic violations, according to the Hope record, were not committed by the teenage group, but were in the age group of 40 to 45, Chief Willis said.

The 18 and 19-year group committed a total of 57 traffic violations, while the 40 to 45-year group had a much worse record and led all age groups.

Chief Willis also told the Kiwanians of the Drunk-O-Meter machine which is operated from the police station at City Hall. No one is forced to take the test when arrested for drunkenness. This is a voluntary thing, and most drunks are glad to take the test. They are "feeling so good" they think they can beat the machine. Results of the machine aid the trial judge in his decision.

Chief Willis answered numerous questions from the floor in regard to the two mechanical devices, and then defended the recent installation of four-way stop signs on heavily-traveled streets in Hope as a means of slowing traffic and making the city a safer place in the club to live.

Guests of the club included Charles Bishop, Bill Walbridge, Rick Matthews and Tom Neece.

Arthur Storch has been appointed general chairman of the 24th annual Hope Kiwanis Minstrel and Variety show which has been tentatively set for April 14 at Hope City Hall. Leonard Ellis, public relations chairman, will again head up the advertising campaign and souvenir program which brings in about $1,700.00 annually that is donated to the Youth Program of Hope.

West Memphis Okays Bonds

WEST MEMPHIS AP — West Memphis voters have approved a $28.5 million industrial bond issue to finance construction of facilities for Southwest Chemical Corp. Construction will begin within 60 days.

The seven building complex will be located on a 143-acre tract here. The firm will employ 125 persons with an annual payroll of $1 million. The plant will manufacture farm fertilizer.

The bond issue was approved 607-140.

Senate Bill Again Aimed at Governor

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — The Judiciary Committee of the Arkansas Senate gave a "do pass" recommendation to a bill Tuesday designed to restrict Gov. Winthrop Rockefeller's patronage privileges.

The bill provides that no employee covered by the state merit system as of Jan. 1 can be transferred or demoted without his consent until the merit system council has reviewed and approved the change. The measure was introduced by Sen. Carl Sorrels of Atkins.

The committee made no recommendation on a bill to create a state training school division in the state Welfare Department.

Sen. Ben Allen's bill would place three of the state's four training schools under the administration of the department. The Boys Training School at Pine Bluff would be excluded.

The committee gave no recommendations to bills that would require grand jury investigations of all state elections, add permanent type road structures as precast bridges and culverts to the list of items a county may purchase without taking bids and declare insurance companies bound by acts of their agents.

Meanwhile, the Joint Budget Committee heard Budget Director Julian Hogan recommend the distribution of state funds be made under the original idea of the Revenue Stabilization Act of 1953.

The plan would change the current method of distributing funds in that it sets up separate funds for public schools, for each college and university and puts all other line-item agencies into one fund.

Each agency in the fund would have a separate account but would not be allowed to keep a surplus. Surplus funds would revert to the overall fund at the end of a fiscal year and the money would be distributed as needed. Public schools, colleges and university would be allowed to keep any surplus in their account.

Defeated Democrats Are Returning to the Federal Payroll

LBJ Going for Big New Merger Plan

By JOSEPH R. COYNE

WASHINGTON (AP) — A

good many Democratic congressmen beaten in the Republican election sweep last November are back on the federal payroll.

Half have landed federal positions, are looking for them, or have been named to high positions in their states.

Former Rep. David S. King of Utah was appointed by President Johnson as U.S. ambassador to the Malagasy Republic off the southeast coast of Africa.

Half a dozen others have become high-level administrators in scattered federal agencies. More are consultants and lesser officials in a variety of federal programs.

Fifty-two Democratic congressmen were defeated in last year's primaries and general elections. So far 17 have federal appointments and jobs, at least 5 are looking and 4 are in line for positions in states and the Democratic party.

The other 25 defeated Democrats returned to law practices and other private positions back home, retired or are still in Washington but plan to return home soon.

Twenty-seven of the Democrats who rode into Congress on the Johnson tide in 1964 went right back out on the Republican resurgence last fall. But they generally have fared well.

Nine have federal jobs, four more are looking and three have state positions or are leading contenders for them.

Patronage? A Democratic congressional staff member says it's no such thing.

"We help them make contact when we can," he said, "but they have to rely on their own merit when they go down for the job."

"We're certainly not in a position to say 'yes,' 'no' or 'maybe' on whether they're hired."

But he added that congressional experience with federal programs often gives ex-officers an advantage over other applicants for the same jobs.

It would seem a congressman's voting record on proposals from a hiring agency also might help. But Democratic leaders concede no such influence.

There's little question the November defeats put some experienced men on the job market.

Former Rep. Clair Callan of Nebraska, a House Agriculture Committee member during his one term, has become deputy administrator of the Rural Electrification Administration.

President Johnson named Thomas G. McGrath Jr. of New Jersey as general counsel of the Department of Housing and Urban Development. Kenneth W. Dyal, a former California postmaster, now is regional post office director in San Francisco.

Former Rep. Lindley Beckworth of Texas, a 24-year House veteran, was appointed by Johnson to a U.S. Customs Court judgeship in New York City.

Virginia Rep. W. Pat Jennings turned to old House colleagues for his job after November.

related agencies, we can create a more economical, efficient and modern instrument to serve a growing nation," Johnson said.

A key phrase in that remark, it now develops, is "other related agencies."

There has been talk of possibly including in the proposed department such independent agencies as the Federal Mediation and Conciliation Service, the National Mediation Board, which handles railroad cases, and the Small Business Administration.

Part of the Office of Economic Opportunity, especially the job and manpower aspects, has also reportedly been discussed for possible inclusion as have the manpower retraining projects of the Department of Health, Education and Welfare.

Insects in Space Craft May Be Dead

WASHINGTON (AP) — A spacecraft full of insects and other organisms is expected to come back to earth tonight or Wednesday — more than eight weeks late.

"We think that most everything has died," a National Aeronautics and Space Administration spokesman said Monday night.

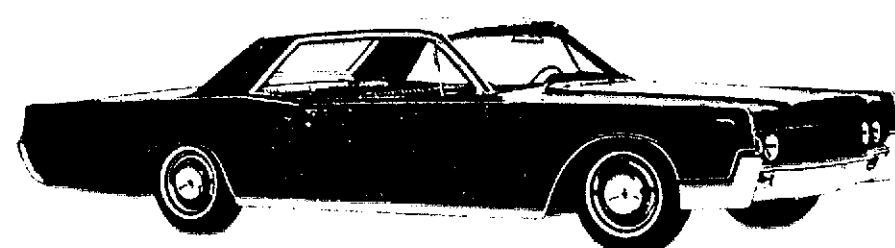

When it shot aloft from Cape Kennedy Dec. 14, the spacecraft carried a 280-pound experiment capsule which housed wasps, flour beetles, fruit flies, bacteria, frog eggs and assorted plant specimens, each in separate compartments with built-in food supplies and warming devices.

Biosatellite, as it was dubbed, was supposed to come down again in three days so that scientists could see how all the living things were affected by the trip. Things didn't work out that way.

Its braking rocket refused to fire and the spacecraft, with food and oxygen supplies rapidly diminishing, kept making erratic orbits of the earth.

THE DOCTOR SAYS

Birth Control Pills May Cause Side Effects in Some

By WAYNE G. BRANDSTADT, M.D.
Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

I am often asked how safe ovulation-suppressing pills are. The Food and Drug Administration has considered these birth control pills safe for nearly 10 years. It is estimated that over five million women use them every day in this country. This is enough to have brought to light any harmful effects they might have.

Why is it, then, that rumors of their damaging potentialities exist? This is partly because rumors of any kind are hard to squelch and partly because women who take these pills are constantly on the lookout for undesirable side effects. It is true that in some women the pills cause nausea, headache, tenderness or heaviness in the breasts or a gain in weight but these symptoms can usually be relieved by adjusting the dosage or changing to a different but closely related drug.

It is also true that some women who are taking these pills develop high blood pressure or varicose veins, but all efforts to establish any causal relationship between these conditions and the pill have failed. These conditions occur equally in women who take and do not take the pills. More important, there has been no evidence that the pill causes cancer or has any harmful effect on any baby a woman may later choose to have.

Q—What harmful effects does the drinking of tea have? Will it thin the blood?

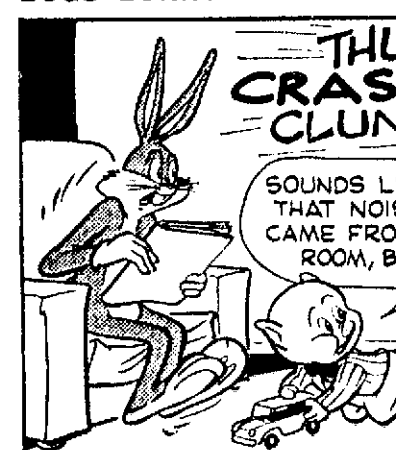

A—Tea will thin the blood only to the extent that any fluid taken in an excessive amount might do so. It will not weaken the kidneys, although an excessive fluid intake does put an added burden on them. This would be significant only if the kidneys were already diseased. Tea is a healthful drink that is preferred by many persons to coffee. Excessive amounts of caffeine from this or any other source may cause insomnia, headache, nervous tension, palpitation and nausea.

Q—When I break the glass getting the cover off a jelly jar, would it be fatal if I accidentally ate a tiny piece of glass?

A—Chewing and eating electric light bulbs was once a popular exhibit in freak shows and circus side shows. Although there is no food value in glass, careful investigation has failed to show that it does any harm. The delicate mucous lining of the digestive tract has a special way of avoiding injury in the handling of such foreign bodies. But don't eat any glass if you can avoid it.

Please send your questions and comments to Wayne G. Brandstadt, M.D., in care of this paper. While Dr. Brandstadt cannot answer individual letters he will answer letters of general interest in future columns.

Mr. Alex Washburn
Editor, Hope Star
Hope, Arkansas

Dear Mr. Alex:

It was a real pleasure for me, as your Senator, to pass in the Senate the other day, the House Concurrent Resolution commending you for introducing and the installation of colored pictures for newspapers in Arkansas.

The members of the Senate were highly commendable of the picture "Hog Killing Time in Arkansas," which was done by your paper and showed excellent workmanship and distinction.

When you make your visit to the Senate, as requested in the resolution, I shall be most happy to offer you all courtesies of this body.

With best wishes and kindest regards, I remain

Sincerely yours,

HOUSE CONCURRENT RESOLUTION

COMMENDING THE HOPE STAR FOR OBTAINING THE FIRST FOUR
ARKANSAS.

WHEREAS, the Hope Star, a newspaper published at Hope, Hempstead County, Arkansas, has recently installed the first four color newspaper picture printing device of its type in use in the State of Arkansas; and

WHEREAS, this automated color machine is expected to revolutionize color picture printing for newspapers, and institutes a time saving and cost reducing method for presenting quality pictures to newspaper readers; and

WHEREAS, Mr. Alex H. Washburn, editor and publisher of the Hope Star is to be commended for his initiative and leadership as exhibited in his bringing to this State this new device and method for presenting quality four color pictures through newspapers; and

WHEREAS, such leadership on the part of Mr. Washburn is typical of the creative leadership of citizens of this State, which has resulted in worldwide attention being brought to Arkansas, and which has been so instrumental in promoting the industrial growth of Arkansas;

NOW, THEREFORE

BE IT RESOLVED BY THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES OF THE SIXTY-SIXTH GENERAL ASSEMBLY OF THE STATE OF ARKANSAS, THE SENATE CONCURRING THEREIN:

That the General Assembly hereby commends Mr. Alex H. Washburn, editor and publisher of the Hope Star, published in Hope, Hempstead County, Arkansas, for his outstanding vision and leadership in installing the first four color picture printing device of its type used in this State as a medium for presenting to the readers of the Hope Star quality full color pictures.

BE IT FURTHER RESOLVED that Mr. Washburn is hereby invited to visit the General Assembly and take pictures of the beautiful renovated House and Senate Chambers to be shown in color, in order that the readers of the Hope Star might have an opportunity to view the new legislative facilities in full color, thereby informing the citizens of this State of their public buildings and facilities.

BE IT FURTHER RESOLVED that upon adoption hereof, a copy of this Resolution shall be furnished, by the Secretary of State, to Mr. Alex H. Washburn, publisher of the Hope Star, Hope, Arkansas.

Hendrix and Feild Back Star Citation

The concurrent resolution of the Arkansas House and Senate praising Hope Star's pioneering work in process color printing was introduced in the House by Rep. Talbot Feild, Jr., of Hope and sponsored in the Senate by Olen Hendrix, Fifth District Senator, of Prescott.

It was an expression of appreciation of The Star's initial four-color photo publication, "Hog-Killing Time in Arkansas," Jan. 28.

This was produced by the second Berkey Direct Screen System machine delivered to an American newspaper, and the very first of the large model, 8x10-inch, machines. The first, a 4x5-inch model, went to the Suffolk Sun, Deer Park, Long Island; and Hope Star and Chicago Tribune were second and third with their purchases of the 8x10 machines.

The Berkey machine was developed in Norway to make separation negatives for color printing automatically. It was produced and manufacture begun in the United States last October; The Star made its purchase in November, and received delivery in December — publishing its first picture Jan. 28.

In addition to 500 full copies delivered to the manufacturer, Berkey Technical Corp., New York City, and Fairchild Graphic Equipment, Plainview, Long Island, 5,000 copies of the front page of Jan. 28 carrying the color picture were printed for sales promotion by Berkey & cross the nation.

A feature article in Editor & Publisher magazine Dec. 31, 1966 on Berkey's machine and The Star gave Hope publicity throughout the United States and Canada.

S. J. Cohen Co. of Blytheville received the contract to make channel improvements to reduce seasonal flooding along the lower five miles of Mantachie Creek in Itawamba County, Miss.

CIA Financed Student Plan Protested

By JOHN BECKLER
WASHINGTON (AP) — Disclosure that the government's top espionage agency financed activities abroad by the nation's largest college student organization brought howls of protest today and demands for a prompt investigation.

Eight House Democrats urged an inquiry "at the highest level" into the secret funding by the Central Intelligence Agency of the National Student Association's participation in world student conferences.

The organization, whose board of directors said it was shocked by the disclosure, received an estimated $200,000 a year during most of the undercover relationship, which lasted more than 10 years. It was broken off at the request of NSA, a 1.3-million-member group with affiliations at 300 campuses.

Sam Brown, chairman of NSA's supervisory board — which has scheduled an emergency meeting for today — said Tuesday night it "comes as a shock" to find the board was "only the policy-making body on the secondary level."

Asked who was the top policy-making body, he said: "The CIA."

The Washington Post quoted an unidentified NSA official today as saying, "Every year the CIA picked out a man or two that it could trust and told them about the undercover funding" of NSA. The source said some of these young men later joined the CIA, often acting as liaison agents to the student group.

Rep. Edith Green, D-Ore., who has helped spearhead federal aid for education, called for a sweeping review of all government aid to educational organizations.

"What is the CIA that it should be the arbiter of all that is right and just?" she asked. "Perhaps we need a law requiring the registration of government agencies trying to influence education, just as we have laws requiring lobbyists to register."

Not all congressmen were aroused, however. One old hand familiar with security matters said, "There is nothing new in all this. It just happens to surface."

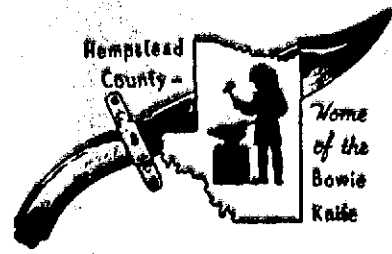

For a supersecret agency the CIA has been surfacing a lot of late.

The Berkey Machine

Photographed in the news darkroom on Tuesday, Jan. 24, is the The Star's new Berkey Direct Screen System machine—second in the United States—which made the four separation negatives that produced today's initial process color picture.

It is a giant enlarger (8x10-inch) coupled to a computer visible at lower right. This automated color machine was announced last October, was bought by The Star in November, and was delivered in December. It is a Norwegian invention, the first one, a smaller 4x5 model, going to a suburban paper on Long Island. The Star bought the second one—first of the big 8x10 model—and one just like ours, the No. 3 machine went to the Chicago Tribune.

U of A Denies Merger Rumor

FAYETTEVILLE, Ark. (AP) — The presidents of the University of Arkansas and Little Rock University denied Tuesday reports of a "rumor" that plans for the merger of the two schools had been finalized. "It's completely new to me," said Dr. David Mullins, president at Arkansas.

"Someone just picked up a rumor," said Dr. Carey Stabler of LRU. "There hasn't even been any meeting or anything else in the last few days. Anyway we'd have to go through the legislature."

Lookadoo Calls WR a Liar

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — Sen. J. Hugh Lookadoo of Arkadelphia charged Tuesday in a speech on the Arkansas Senate floor that Gov. Winthrop Rockefeller had lied about a deal he allegedly made with the senator.

"The deal stood for two weeks before Rockefeller backed out on it," Lookadoo said. "Rockefeller's denial of the deal is a lie."

The dispute centered around appointments to the board of Henderson State College and the state Public Service Commission.

Lookadoo said Rockefeller agreed to appoint H. Grady Smith of Arkadelphia to the board in exchange for Lookadoo's support of the appointment of Jerry K. Thomasson to the state Public Service Commission.

Lookadoo questioned the governor's integrity.

Jones' Merit $24,130 for Land Plan Bill Defeated

By ROBERT L. SHAW
Associated Press Writer

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — The Arkansas House beat down a bill creating a merit system for state employees Tuesday, giving Gov. Winthrop Rockefeller victory in a major test of good will between him and the representatives.

The bill by Sen. Guy Jones of Conway, a frequent Rockefeller critic, failed on a 24-65 vote after proponents admitted that it might contain some flaws but that these could be corrected by future legislation. The measure had ominous implications for Rockefeller and the Republican Party. It contained a provision that made its coverage retroactive to Jan. 1, which would mean that state employees holding patronage jobs who were dismissed after Rockefeller became governor could be reinstated.

Rockefeller issued a statement later saying the "retroactive merit system proposal" was not in the state's best interest and "represented a point of view not likely to aid us in our joint efforts to improve government and build a better Arkansas."

The House gave Rockefeller a second victory on the next bill it considered. The representatives approved 91-0 and sent to the governor a Senate bill creating a constitutional revision study commission to determine whether the 1874 state constitution needs revising.

The administration measure fulfills Rockefeller's inaugural call for an "orderly approach" to calling a constitutional convention.

Meanwhile, the Senate attached two amendments to the administration's teacher tenure bill, then refused to vote on the bill as amended. Sen. Ben Allen of Little Rock, who handled the

Pollution Attracting Legislators

CHICAGO (AP) — The menacing problem of air pollution is attracting the major attention of legislators in many states, a study showed today.

Many measures dealing with air pollution control already have been thrown into the legislative hoppers of almost half the states of the Union.

These measures touch on air pollution controls, waste disposal and incinerator controls, tax exemptions for control devices, noise abatement and motor vehicle emission devices and pollution control commissions.

Commerce Clearing House, a private reporting agency which made the study, said that tax exemptions, license credits and other incentives designed to eliminate air pollution have been proposed in New York, Washington, Connecticut, West Virginia and Utah.

A Hempstead Circuit Court jury yesterday awarded $24,130 to the Paul Cornelius estate, Fulton, for 85 acres of land taken over by the Arkansas Highway Commission for Interstate 30 right-of-way. Highway appraisers had set $18,500 value on the acreage involved.

Today a jury will hear a similar right-of-way case involving land owned by Vincent W. Foster and wife.

Legislators Pay Bill to Court

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — A lawsuit has been filed to test an Arkansas law that appropriates $4,000 to pay legislators $20 a day for expenses during a two-day extension of the current General Assembly.

The suit charges that the law is unconstitutional and an illegal exaction of public funds. It was filed Tuesday in Pulaski Chancery Court by Floyd Sharp, an attorney for Walter Green of Little Rock.

Sharp, an attorney, for Walter Green of Little Rock, said the friendly taxpayer's suit was "arranged" to provide a speedy test of the law.

Sen. Morrell Gathright of Pine Bluff introduced the bill to test an opinion of Atty. Gen. Joe Purcell who said that expenses for an extended session could not be paid.

Gathright said his bill was part of a test to overcome Purcell's opinion. The General Assembly has already approved a bill to provide for an extension of the current 60-day session.

Koreans Kill 243 North Vietnamese

By ROBERT D. OHMAN
SAIGON, South Vietnam (AP)

South Korean marines reported killing 243 North Vietnamese regulars today in a three-hour battle through rice paddies about 340 miles north-east of Saigon. It was the biggest battle in recent months in Vietnam.

In the Mekong Delta south of Saigon, Vietnamese authorities reported a combined army-ranger unit killed 56 Viet Cong in a pitched battle Tuesday. But in the Long Tau River — the main shipping channel into Saigon — 14 American sailors were wounded and one was missing when guerrillas sank one 80-foot U.S. minesweeper, badly damaged two others and fired on a fourth.

While the tempo of the ground war quickened, U.S. planes attacked transport routes in North Vietnam's panhandle area. Bad weather again was reported over most of the Communist north, and U.S. pilots relied on radar to guide them to their targets.

A Korean spokesman said two companies of Korean marines — about 400 men — took moderate casualties in the big battle this morning against an estimated 1,200 North Vietnamese attackers. The Koreans were pursuing the North Vietnamese tonight, he reported.

One company of Koreans was moving into a mountainous Communist stronghold 11 miles north of Quang Ngai City when the North Vietnamese attacked them with mortars.

The Communists penetrated the Koreans' perimeter at one point, the spokesman said, but the marines counterattacked and drove the enemy out in hand-to-hand fighting. Fighting was at such close quarters the marines couldn't call in air or artillery support until the North Vietnamese broke and fled.

Additional Korean marines were moved into the area, and the enemy death toll mounted as the marines swept through the valley north of the Tra Khuc River.

The enemy unit was identified by the Korean spokesman as the 1st Battalion of the 21st North Vietnamese regiment.

The first Viet Cong attack on the U.S. minesweepers in the Saigon channel came at 7 a.m., when guerrillas opened fire on two of the 80-foot boats about 15 miles southeast of the capital.

As one of the boats began to sink, the other sweeper pushed it aground to keep the channel clear. Six crewmen were injured and one was reported missing. Air strikes were called in.

Three hours later, another U.S. minesweeper hit a mine seven miles farther down river and sank. Eight crewmen were injured.

During the afternoon, guerrilla gunners opened fire on a fourth minesweeper and continued shooting until it was out of range. A tanker moving down river was forced to turn back.

American infantry units were busy with more than a dozen operations in various parts of South Vietnam, but they reported only light, scattered contact.

A U.S. spokesman said American war planes flew 67 missions over North Vietnam Tuesday, nearly all of them in the southern panhandle. Air Force pilots reported a large secondary explosion after hitting a ferry complex five miles south of Dong Hoi.
